What is Digital Signage?

Digital signage is a form of advertising in which media content is displayed on an LCD or HDTV with the goal of delivering targeted messages to consumers. Digital signage offers superior return on investment (ROI) over traditional advertising. Display simple text, web pages or full presentations using the included software.

DS-Z Series Digital Signage Systems

The easy to use Z series systems allow you to make changes to your signs quickly and cost effectively. Targeted messages are distributed to the content displays from the "Control Server".

The unique multi-monitor server allows you to easily create and publish direct marketing campaigns to your customers presenting a clear "call-to-action" message. The server supports up to 7 content displays from a single PC based system.

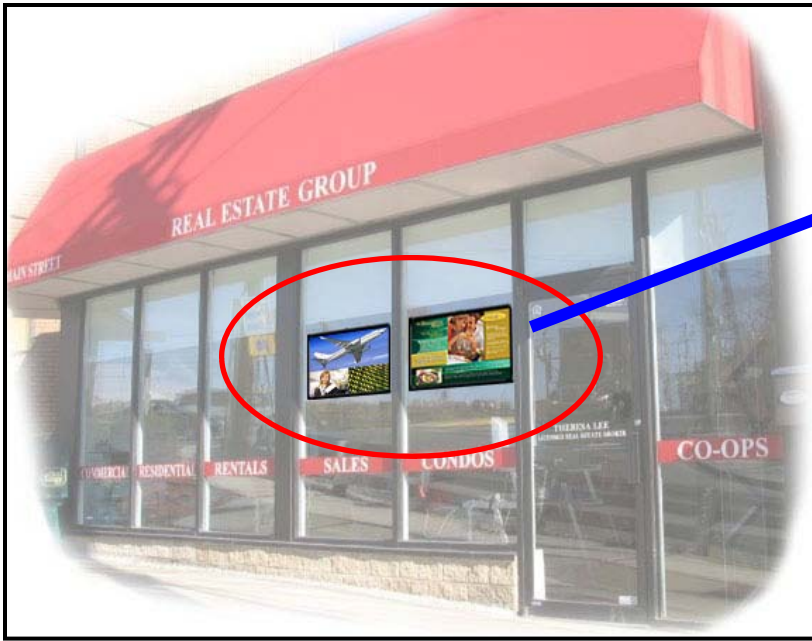

DS-Z Systems are versatile enough for any type of business environment. Update all displays throughout your business from the back office. Promote your products and services like never before on vibrant, colorful LCD screens.
